While this guide is not a substitute for the complete MLA guide lines for citing texts, I hope it will serve as a useful quick reference.

- Citing articles from our textbook (article in an edited collection):

  Last, First. “Article Title.” Title of Book Article Appears In. Ed. Editor’s Name(s). City of Publication: Publisher, Date of Pub: Pages of Article.

  Example:

- Citing a Book:

  Last, First. Title of Book. City of Publication: Publisher, Date of Publication.

  Example:

- Citing a Journal Article:

  Last, First. “Title of Article.” Journal Title Journal Number (Date of Publication): Page numbers.

  Example:

- Citing a Web Page:

  NOTE: This is a very, very general guide. Consult your MLA Guide, Library Resources, or Writing Handbook for specifics.

  Last, First. “Title of Article.” Web Site/Name of Publication/Publishing Info. Date of Publication. Date of Access. <complete URL>.

  Example: