CSS Exercise

You are to create an external style sheet that you will use for the remainder of your web pages in this course, including the project. It must contain styles for at least five XHTML elements and at least one style class (total of six items). At least one of the XHTML elements in the CSS must be for the heading on your project's main page.

Modify your project's main page so it links to the external style sheet and uses at least three of these specified styles, including the heading element.
