This video does the soup to nuts. Almost. A few notes:

- When selecting in the installer, also select the msys base system so you'll have the make utility
- When adding to the path variable in the environment variables, after adding C:\MinGW\bin, add
    o C:\MinGW\msys\1.0\bin
- You can install emacs to use on your PC. This is really useful for running gdb. Find it here:
    o https://www.gnu.org/software/emacs/download.html
    o It unzips and then you must add its location to the path variable.
